The image shows a hand-drawn sketch of a medal table template, likely for the 2020 Tokyo Olympics. The sketch is divided into two main sections by a vertical line.

Left Section (Medal Table Structure):

- At the top, there are three horizontal lines, each preceded by a small square box, representing the medal counts for Gold, Silver, and Bronze.
- Below these, there is a thick horizontal line.
- Underneath the thick line, the Chinese characters "競技" (Sport) are written in a stylized font.
- Following "競技", there are five rows, each starting with a small square box and followed by a horizontal line, representing the names of the competing countries or teams.
- At the bottom of the left section, there is a small vertical line.

Right Section (Olympic Rings and Medal Legend):

- At the top right, there are three dots "...".
- Below the dots, there is a small rectangular box containing a legend for the medal colors, with each color represented by a small circle and text:
 - All
 - Gold
 - Silver
 - Bronze
- In the center of the right section, the Olympic rings are drawn in a stylized, hand-drawn manner.
- Below the rings, the Chinese characters "競技名" (Sport Name) are written in a stylized font.
